The XYZ Wear Corporation plans to develop (from system analysis to operation testing) the web site for selling wears through Internet and to form the new whole system as follow:

1. Identify the must-have functionalities of the selling website.
2. How to deal with complexity in the following cases:
   a. Developing new selling website.
   b. Activating the website in the whole system configuration.
   c. Reusing a search engine and a member administration module of the main system.
3. How to deal with changes in the following cases:
   a. Developing new selling website.
   b. Activating the website in the whole system configuration.
   c. Reusing a search engine and a member administration module of the main system.
4. Identify the quality indicators of the website in the following cases:
   a. Developing new selling website.
   b. Activating the website in the whole system configuration.
   c. Reusing a search engine and a member administration module of the main system.
5. Describe a measurement plan for the whole system that are suitable for the following cases:
   a. Developing new selling website.
   b. Activating the website in the whole system configuration.
   c. Reusing a search engine and a member administration module of the main system.